The University of Minnesota, Dept. of Food Science and Nutrition, seeks a Research Associate. Job duties incl. the design, implementation and evaluation of clinical studies related to dietary effects on chronic disease in collaboration with the principle investigator and the scientific team; preparation, presentation and reporting data; author, co-author, and otherwise collaborating on reports, conference papers and publications; author and co-author manuscripts for publication and/or presentation at professional meetings; drafting proposals to funding agencies to procure funds for new projects; managing graduate students research projects and training and managing post-graduates, graduate and undergraduate students.

Required Qualifications: PhD in Nutrition, Registered Dietitian license, experience with radioimmunoassay, ELISA, familiarity with LC-MS/MS and experience with running large clinical trials including regulatory requirements, participant recruitment, data and sample collection, and publication of manuscripts in high quality scientific journals.

Applications should submit the following materials: cover letter; curriculum vita; contact information for 3 references by applying online at the University of Minnesota Human Resource online employment website (http://www1.umn.edu/ohr/employment/, requisition # 305591).

The University of Minnesota is an equal opportunity educator and employer.